EXPERIENCE

Bank Management — C++, QT

May 2023

I have developed an online banking solution for users, incorporating a wide range of features, including account summaries, an online transaction system, utility bill payments, mobile recharge, and more.

Seat Lagbe? — C programming

January 2023

I developed a console application for seat booking on the university bus. Students and staff can now reserve seats for their commute to and from the university. This app addresses the daily bus seat requirements on various city routes.
